

If local radio can't compete against satellite radio, don't blame XM radio. They do a terrific job and should be allowed to offer local information.